

The image shows a bright, airy dining room. In the center, a round table is covered with a patterned tablecloth and surrounded by four wooden chairs with light-colored seats. To the right, a large window with three panes offers a view of lush green trees. To the left, a smaller window with two panes looks out onto a building. The room features light-colored walls, a wooden floor, and a decorative chandelier hanging from the ceiling. A dark wood side table is visible on the far right.
